SMITH, COOLIDGE IN FIGHT FOR TAX CUT

National Figures Sign Letter Citing Hazards of Present Federal Costs.

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—An open letter bearing the signatures of former President Calvin Coolidge, former Governor Alfred M. Smith and four other nationally known men, and declaring that "the general public will find itself in a condition of servitude" unless all governmental costs are reduced, was made public here today.

The letter was addressed to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, chairman of the national economy league, and was read by him to a meeting of executive committee of the league held to complete arrangements for the first national convention of the organization in Washington, D. C., on Dec. 32 and 33.

In addition to the names of Mr. Smith and Mr. Coolidge, the letter bore the signature of Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, Elihu Root, former secretary of state, General John J. Pershing and Admiral William S. Sims. All six are members of the advisory council of the league.

ANCIENT CANNON FOUND
STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—A 400-year-old metal cannon has been found in the sub-basement of the famous restaurant "Falken," now being demolished. This celebrated eating place was located close to the ancient city wall. It is believed that the cannon once belonged to a Swedish man-of-war.

MURRAY ON WARPATH

Campaigns for Friendly Legislators

Stumping the state for legislators friendly to him, Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma, has threatened to quit his post if the next state assembly opposes him and his program. He is shown in typical speaking and campaign poses.

By The Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY—Gov. William H. (Arlene Bill) Murray will resign if the Oklahoma legislature convening in January is organized against him and his program he has announced publicly.

stumped the state for six months urging voters to name legislators friendly to him.

"There is no use waiting two more years if the legislature is organized against me," he said in an address at Okmulgee.

His Message
Murray started his spectacular fight when the senate of the last legislature defeated many of the measures on his tax program and amended others.

Calling a joint session, the governor angrily shouted he would "call the roll" against those who oppose him.

Before the first primary election this year he published in his weekly campaign newspaper a list of candidates for house and senate, designating those he thought should be elected. These he began a personal campaign which took him into virtually every county of the state before the second primary.

"I will have a majority of the house with me," he predicted after the run-off primary, and I believe I have an edge in the senate. Of course the general election may change things.

Predicted "Independent" Senate
Political observers, however, have stressed the fact that half of the senators are holdover members and have voiced predictions that the senate will be "independent."

After the second primary the governor launched an even more intensive campaign, asking election of the Republican nominee in several districts where the Democratic candidate was admittedly anti-Murray.

Disappointed with the state income tax bill adopted by the last legislature, Governor Murray has initiated a new measure providing for higher levies on corporations. Sufficiency of the petition has been attacked in a protest now pending before the state supreme court.

Should the bill not be submitted to voters at an election this autumn, the governor has indicated he will place it before the next legislature and ask that it be passed without amendment.

"If they don't pass it without changing it, I'll submit it to the people of the state every six months until it is made law," he told an audience at Konawa, Okla.

SEES MENACE IN PAMPERED CHILD

Social Executive Says Spoiled Children Potential Backwash

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Pampered children are potential rock-throwers, Dr. Arthur E. Roberts, executive of the Cincinnati council of the Boy Scouts of America, told the Ohio congress of parents and teachers which closed its annual meeting here today.

"Perhaps they'll not join up with a gang," Dr. Roberts said, "but you're teaching them to work you for more and more privileges, and in so doing you're infecting the community because your children are setting a standard which invites the emulation of their neighbors." The closing program of the association included election of officers and reports by the resolutions committee.

Governor George White and J. L. Merrill, vice president of the State university, greeted the delegates last night.

In the Netherlands there are about 1000 establishments making wooden shoes, most of them being made by machinery.

CAMPAIGNERS BUSY IN OHIO

Ingalls Invades Democratic Area To Pledge Farm Tax Relief.

NUMEROUS RALLIES HELD

Josephus Daniels, Ex-War Secretary, Sees Repetition of 1912 Triumph.

By The Associated Press
David S. Ingalls, Republican candidate for governor, invaded northern Democratic territory at Delaware last night for a campaign speech in which he pledged farm relief through the medium of lower taxes.

Out of every ten men, one is on a governmental pay roll, Ingalls told the audience. The resultant taxes are a burden, he said, which has driven many industries from the state, thereby increasing the burden on farmers and others who remain. Other Republican campaigners were former Governor Myers Y. Cooper, who spoke at Youngstown; Attorney General Gilbert Bettman, candidate for U. S. senator, who addressed a rally at Wauseon, and James H. Garfield.

Sees Brighter Future
Cooper told the Youngstown audience that "things are better and public confidence is being restored. There is no better evidence of this than the flow of bond money into the national channels of trade at the rate of $20,000,000 a week."

Garfield, who helped draft the Republican platform at Chicago, spoke at Bedford, striking vigorously at Democratic claims of Republican responsibility for the depression. Claiming speculation was the prime cause of the economic situation, Garfield asked his listeners whether President Hoover or the Republican party advised speculation, and said: "It little becomes Democracy as a party to criticize the President's leadership."

The coming national election was likened to "what happened in 1912."

In a campaign address last night by Josephus Daniels, Democratic secretary of the navy under President Wilson.

Daniels and Howard L. Bevis, state director of finance, were speakers at a Democratic rally in New Philadelphia. U. S. Senator Robert J. Bulkley spoke at Sandusky.

Compares Periods
In 1912, Daniels said, five million "disillusioned and dissatisfied Republicans" threw their support to Theodore Roosevelt. "Conditions then were brought about by the same things that have caused the prostration today, only conditions are worse now than then," the former cabinet member said.

Daniels predicted Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, will be elected, carrying as many states west of the Mississippi as did Woodrow Wilson, and that five Republican senators of that region will be unseated.

Senator Bulkley, addressing members of the soldiers' and sailors' home, was "hyped" when he told them "economic conditions at this time will not permit me to support the bonus proposal." Later, however, the veteran gave him a cheer.

Saying he was sincere in his opposition to the bonus, Bulkley told the veterans, "I'm not making promises that I won't keep. When you need help, I'll go to bat for you, but I'm not going to vote to spend the taxpayer's money promiscuously." At that point he was cheered.

Experiments by a British scientist have indicated that sounds produced on the surface of the earth rise and are reflected from layers of warm air 24 miles high to places where they are heard.

THIRD ROMANCE ENDS Elder Matrimonial Plane Down Again

LYLE WOMACK, WALTER CAMP JR.

By International News Service
NEW YORK—Having sat in a grand stand seat and watched the New York Yankees win a couple of World Series games from the Chicago Cubs, Mrs. Ruth Elder Camp grew wistful. It's great to be a winner, she thought, and no wonder did she come to that momentous conclusion that she decided that she, too, would win something. So she packed her grip and boarded a choo-choo for Reno to win her freedom from Walter Camp, son of the late football authority.

Ruth's romance with Camp began soon after the ocean flight five years ago, when she almost fell into the Atlantic with George Haldeman, but was forced down at sea off the Azores. They were married two years later and Ruth promised to give up flying, but Walter wasn't unimpressed with aviation and she couldn't dream of going anywhere without him.

Old Story of "Impermanence" However in agreeing to a "friendly divorce," the couple has revealed that their marriage was a clash of temperaments from the start.

Walter, 36, and Ruth, who keeps on other things that gave Mr. Camp a cramp in the neck. So after a year of this, they agreed to go their separate ways, each with the warmest regard for the other, still, not warm enough to make them willing to pull an oar in the good ship matrimony.

Camp is the third husband whom Ruth promised to honor and cherish only to take it all back via the divorce courts. Her first venture to the sweet, but sometimes sad, strains of Lohengrin was with C. E. Moody, a school teacher of Clayton, Ga.

Ruth was very young then, so it was not natural that the life that binds (or so tightly) would become irksome as she grew older and looked at life from a different angle. Well, the first voyage of the marital barque came to an abrupt ending in the divorce court, and soon after Miss Elder was once more a bride.

Lyle Came Next
This time Ruth was accompanied to the altar by Lyle Womack, an electric sign salesman of Balboa Heights, Panama.

They were wed in Birmingham, Ala., in 1925, and all too soon, Mrs. Womack began to realize that she had made another false start.

She discovered that her new hubby had no particular ambition to work, and their little spats progressed from lovers quarrels to the kind that usually finish up on the court of law.

Then Ruth took it into her head to fly the Atlantic and the war was on in real earnest. Womack opposed the project from the start, proving that he did not know much about women, for his opposition only made his wife all the more determined to go ahead.

Tells of Both Threats
Later, when Womack was seeking a divorce from the ladybird, the details of their life while Ruth was preparing to fly the ocean were revealed. The aviatrix claimed that Lyle used cave-man methods to prevent the flight. At one time, she said, he even threatened to kill her and her co-pilot, George Haldeman.

Furthermore, Ruth laid the blame for the failure of the flight on her husband, asserting that he kept her from flying on three perfect days during which, she says, she surely would have landed in France had she been permitted to take off.

On her return to America after her rescue at sea, Ruth avoided her husband. She took part in moving pictures and at various times was reported to be considering marriage with different film stars. But none of these rumors ever came to anything until Womack won a divorce from her, charging desertion and cruelty.

Expected to Fly Again
Since her marriage to the wealthy Walter Camp, three years ago, Miss Elder has steadfastly kept her promise to give up flying, but her close friends believe that she always regretted forsaking the air.

So it is probable that when she obtains her freedom in the Reno divorce mill, she'll return to the ranks of America's ladybirds, for, she says, she's through with men and romance.

COURT NEWS

Flight Judgment
Vacation of a cognovit judgment against the Ferwerda Bros. Construction Co. of Bedford in favor of the Crawford Finance Co. is sought in a motion filed in common pleas court this morning by the construction company.

In an affidavit in support of the motion, the company contends that it refused to pay a balance due on three mechanical "mules" it purchased from the Marion Steel Body Co. because the "mules" allegedly were not built in accordance with terms of the contract. The company held the construction company's notes for the balance, and transferred these notes, without consideration, to the Crawford Finance Co. for collection to prevent the construction company from selling up its defense against payment of the balance, according to the affidavit.

Mt. Gilead Considers Means of Aiding Unemployed in Morrow County.

Special to The Star
MT. GILEAD, Oct. 10.—Mayor G. J. Young, J. H. Kelly of the Kelly Foundry & Machine Co., and L. E. White have been appointed representatives of the Mt. Gilead Kiwanis club to confer with the county commissioners in regard to the issuing of bonds for unemployment and relief work in the county. Morrow county's share of the state tax on utilities, included in Governor White's program of relief, will produce sufficient revenue to pay the interest and retire the bonds, it has been stated by a member of the committee.

Morrow county's allotment would be $37,500 but bonds must be issued in each county where the relief funds are used. The money can be used for no other purpose.

Morrow county commissioners last spring made application to the state board for the $37,500 but did not secure it at that time. They were advised to wait until fall when the amount to be produced by the tax would be definitely known. The application will be renewed at once and some means of securing the money for this county will be worked out.

Regular telephone service has been established between Norway and Chile, Uruguay, the Canary Islands and Spain.

My Beauty Hint

BY LANN E. LOMBARD

ALTHOUGH I think makeup is up to very essential to beauty my hint is not to overdo it.

In daytime I use a powder of equal parts beige and flesh tints, a tea rose shade of rouge and a very pale rose lipstick. I never use mascara or eye pencil when going to shop or out walking.

For evening a powder four shades darker is my favorite. I use no cheek rouge but my lipstick is heavier. I use a carmine red. At night I also use violet eyelid shadow and dark blue mascara. Lengthening my eyebrows slightly with a blue pencil.

Makeup discussed in her paper "Painting the Face and the Face" by Julius Caesar. The club will meet in two weeks with Miss Anna Merenches of Brightwood drive.

(-SIX-) Justly, in which case he would find himself floundering. Jervis' fancy dwelt fondly on the thought of getting a grip on Leonard's ankles. The passage would make him fall.

As he turned out, he found the ledge without difficulty. But it was another matter to haul himself up on to it. The mill of rock was a couple of feet above water level, and beneath it, and upon either side, the wall was as smooth and as slippery as ice. He could never have climbed to the ledge if he had not chanced on the ring.

It was away to one side of the all. He had pulled himself up a dozen times, only to be dragged back by the weight of his drenched clothes and his own tired limbs when his desperate fingers closed upon it. It was of iron, heavily rusted, and had doubtless served to secure the rope used for hauling in Old Fox's keys. It was a good-sized to Jervis.

Straining and panting, he got a knee on the still and fell forward. Meanwhile, Rosamund Carey walked into Old Fox's house and called "Robert!" She left the hall door open behind her and stood in the narrow hall. "Why have you come here?" Leonard said.

"What an affectionate cousin you are!" "Cousin," said Rosamund firmly. "And, officially, I'm here to fetch eggs. Jane's hens are on strike, so I've got a perfectly good excuse for coming."

She walked past him into the ugly square room, shut the door on them both, and asked quickly, "Robert, where is he?" What has happened?" "Nothing's happened," said Robert Leonard.

"D'ye mean he won't?" "He's an obstinate fool." "You must give him time! You don't imagine he'd give way at once did you? That's why I've come. I want to see him!" He gave a short laugh.

"I shall play up the horrible scandal, and isn't it better to pay than to wash all the family linen in public. Jervis may be in love with me, but you can bank on it that he won't send me to jail." "Oh, hold your tongue!" said Robert Leonard angrily.

"A bit nervous this morning, aren't you?" said Rosamund. "Well anyway, that's my line, and I want a chance of trying it. One hundred fifty thousand's worth having." "A million's better—to say nothing of Weena."

"What do you mean by that?" said Rosamund sharply. "What should I mean?" "I don't know. Where is he?" "He's in the cave."

"The cave?" said Rosamund. She looked incredulous for a moment, and then horrified. "But the tide—doesn't the tide come up into the cave?" "It does."

"Robert! What have you done?" "I? Absolutely nothing." Rosamund took a step backwards. "What have you done?" "I've done what I promised. I gave him the chance of paying up, and he wouldn't take it. I can't say I'm sorry. Weena and a million is better than $150,000 and the Argentinian, with the off chance of Jervis doing us dirt."

Rosamund leaned hard upon the door. "If he's dead, you'll never touch a penny! I told you so! Not one penny! Robert!" She made a sudden movement forward. "When is it high tide?" "You mean when was it high tide? I suppose it was high tide at 10 minutes past 8 this morning, and will be again at about a quarter past 7 this evening."

"Have you been down since?" "No."

"Well, I'm going down now." "Want me to come too?" said Leonard.

"No. How much passage is there?" "From here to the cliff—and it's dark."

She went down the remaining steps.

To Be Continued.

EXCEPTING the intriguing aspect of private affairs, this day must be read as holding setbacks, disappointments and obstacles as well as some concern regarding letters, writings and kindred matters. Business will be critical and laudable, and other difficulties arise. In domestic artistic or romantic affections there is likely to be a compensatory development entirely satisfactory and giving much happiness, probably of a secret or intriguing aspect.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year beset with many difficult situations to surmount, with impediments, delays and perplexing business conditions. Properly and industry may also be affected. But the intimate personal relations will flourish and bring much happiness, probably of a secret or intriguing aspect.

"Heart of a Wife"

BY ADELE GARRISON

Carolyn, torn by John, told how Marion was taken out of their home just after a strange arrival at the black on November.

EVERY instinct of sympathy and pity within her urged delay, if only for a few seconds, in questioning Carolyn Brixton about Marion's disappearance. With her arms clasped convulsively about her neck, with her broken sobbing, hysterical and, I was sure, unthoughtful reason for not having rushed out with Marion and her captives, she was so crushed and grief-stricken that it seemed cruel to do aught save try to comfort her.

But I knew as well as the rest that we had not a second to waste in anything but finding out what she knew about Marion, and though I felt an unreasonable resentment against Hugh Grantland's dictum, I did not betray it when he whispered to me.

"Make her stop crying and tell us exactly what she knows." Sticking myself for a most distasteful task, I put up my hands, took Carolyn's arms from my neck and held her firmly, far enough away from me so that I could look directly at her face.

Carolyn's Story "If you want us to save Marion," I said sternly, "you must stop crying and tell us exactly what happened. Stop it, I tell you!" as she let her convulsive sob escape her. "Marion's very life may depend upon what you tell us."

I felt her stiffen in my grasp, and her head with its fair dove-colored curls raised itself resolutely. "All right. That's out," she said, huskily but firmly. "Where shall I begin?"

Harding Gridmen To Battle Bucyrus Eleven Tonigh

PRESIDENTS NOT IN TOP PHYSICAL SHAPE FOR NOCTURNAL TILT

Several Regulars Nursing Painful Injuries; Game Called at 7:45 P. M.

Starting under a 20-7 lacing snapped on last Saturday by Shelby in an N. C. O. league conflict, Harding High's Presidents will step out and see what can be done about the Bucyrus game tonight. The game will start at 7:45 P. M. The Bucyrus-coached grid machine is not in good condition for a grueling conflict. Several members of the outfit are nursing painful if not serious injuries and some of the regulars may not be able to stand the staff in very rough going.

There are at least three first stringers who are not in the best of condition but all of them are expected to be in uniform and ready to play if called on. Bob Koller is still wearing a heavy bandage over an eye as the result of a bad cut. John Guthrie has been nursing a charlie horse for several days. Lowell Flinthberger has not been in uniform all week but will don the padded suit tonight. Several others have bumps of a minor nature.

Punitive Unlikely
Despite the fact the team is low in its peak strength, it will go into the game on the long and of the odds. Bucyrus, however, is expected to prove more than just a pushover for the Red and Black standard bearers. The Redman have always been troublesome for Harding, even when on paper the Marion team appeared far superior. They may prove far more troublesome tonight than anyone cares to think about at the present moment.

Having made the important discovery against Shelby that football games are more than mere forward passing battles, Harding is expected to depend a little more frequently on running plays for its gains than has been the case previously this season. The Presidents will be expected to rely on the aerial route for a lot of their advance but when the occasion demands they may be able to slip in an off tackle slash or an end run to fall to good advantage.

Lineup Uncertain
Just who will start tonight's contest is pretty much of a question as it always is in the Marion camp. Bucyrus is expected to make few changes in the lineup that started last week against Shelby. Gray and Polk will probably be at the flanks. Flinthberger and McDermott are slated to start at the tackle. If Flinthberger is in shape and if not, Polk will be moved over and "The Walker or Hagen sent to his flank post. Hinklin and Hinklin at the guard and Menta at center complete the forward wall. Whitcomb and Keller are fairly certain backfield starters. The other two will be chosen from Guthrie, Menta and Smith.

The game will be played at the Lane Street field in Bucyrus, the same place the Redmen have played in previous years. Harding's band will accompany the team to the game.

STAGG RETIRED AS COACH AT CHICAGO

University Ousts Dean of Grid Mentors Because of Age.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—One of the most successful coaches in American football today was in his closing pages, for Alonzo Stagg retired as director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Chicago at the end of the college year next June.

The grand old man of the mid-way, Chicago's only athletic director and head gridiron teacher, having reached three score and 10 years, must step aside under a university rule providing that 70 shall be the age limit for members of the faculty. And Stagg will make way for Thomas Nelson Metcalf, now director of athletics at Iowa State college, Ames, Ia., only because of the rule. He became 70 years old last Aug. 16.

In yielding Stagg clearly eyed and looking not more than 50 of his 70 years told he was frankly, "not content to do it," that he felt he is good for 15 or 20 more years of active service. His successor as football coach will be named by Metcalf, who has given no indication of his choice.

Stagg Magnificent
In announcing the retirement of Stagg, the board of trustees of the university said a new post, chairman of the committee on intercollegiate athletics, had been created for him. Stagg, however, has not accepted the place.

Stagg has become almost as much a part of the University of Chicago as its beautiful Gothic buildings. He came in with its founding 41 years ago, becoming its first athletic director and later became the first athletic man to attain the rank of faculty member. His contributions to the advancement of football have been many.

Stagg has set up a great record in 40 seasons his teams have won 243 games, lost 104 and tied 23. A good share of the defeats coming during the last eight years when a scarcity of material existed. In Western conference competition, his eleven won 124 games, lost 6, and tied 26.

ALONZO A. STAGG
and he developed a legion of the greatest stars of the game. The late Knute Rockne often said that Stagg's technique furnished the basis of the Notre Dame system. Stagg was heartbroken over the invading of the rule forcing his retirement, and was outspoken in his desire to continue in active coaching.

Retired at Peak
The old man's notice of retirement comes just when a football revival seems certain at Chicago. This year's team won its opening game and tied Yale 7 to 7, last week, and with improved material appears set for the best season the Maroons have had since 1924. The present freshman squad promises that Chicago will be right near the top next year.

Over his long span of service Stagg has set up a great record. In 40 seasons his teams have won 243 games, lost 104 and tied 23. A good share of the defeats coming during the last eight years when a scarcity of material existed. In Western conference competition, his eleven won 124 games, lost 6, and tied 26.

SHOOT 432 SCORE

Fields Set High Mark in Revolver Association Match.

The sharpshooters really got down to business last night as the No. 1 team of the Marion Revolver association, led by R. Groll, and the No. 2 team led by R. Fields met at the Police station range.

Fields' team came out strong by a score of 1465 to 1445 but members of both combinations turned in some close scores.

Fields set up a record for the boys to shoot at when he banged out a score of 432 and Groll was not far behind, rolling up a 431 count. Conklin was second high mark for the boys with 398 and Baker was second for the women with 348.

Captain Fields' team will meet the team led by L. Groll in the next club shoot on Tuesday, Oct. 15.

Johnny McAdie, working out at quarterback for a position on the Ohio State university squad, has played every position on a football team during his career.

"MASKED MARVEL" TO MEET COAST STAR IN MONDAY MAT SHOW

Red Lyons, Pacific Light-heavy, Faces Arm Stretch of "Unknown."

In an effort to secure a man who is capable of not only defeating the formidable wrestling machine called the "Masked Marvel" but of forcing him to unmask so that his identity may become known, local wrestling promoters are importing the greatest light-heavyweight "Red" Lyons, king pin of all the far known to Pacific Coast wrestling west light-heavyweights.

Lyons has assured Kaufman he will be on hand and in the "pink" for anything that could be thrown his way. He had contemplated a trip through this section later in the winter but upon receipt of Kaufman's wire offering him the match with the unknown "Marvel" he decided to come on immediately.

In securing Lyons to meet the man in the mask Kaufman had another purpose also. Lyons is known as the greatest defensive wrestler in the game. He is a powerful built, slashing wrestling dynamo. He should be capable of not only defending himself against the terrible arm stretch which the "Marvel" possesses but his powerful arm and shoulder development should enable him to break the grip even should he fall into it.

Lyons Fleets Tough
Lyons is tough there's no doubt about that. In fact he is rated the uncrowned king of his division throughout his home sector and he has standing offers all over that part of the world to wrestle any claimant of the light-heavyweight championship.

As to the "Masked Marvel" nothing is known except that he is without doubt one of the classiest wrestlers Marion has seen in a long time. He demonstrated that beyond doubt by his smashing victory here last week over Jack Brown of Shreveport, La.

His paralyzing arm stretch is the best instrument of torture ever flashed here by any wrestler. Local mat fans have seen the arm stretch used many times by men who were reputedly masters of the grip but never have they seen it applied as the man in the black mask applied it to Brown last Monday night.

Lyons and the "Marvel" have been slated to battle two best out of three falls with a two hour limit in the main bout of the show. Augustus Beckman

FELDMAN HAMMERED BY KID CHOCOLATE

Cuban Negro Gains Partial Claim to Feather Title by Triumph.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—His third successive victory over Ray Feldman has gained for Kid Chocolate, Cuban Negro flash, a piece of the more or less vacant featherweight championship.

Chocolate hammered Feldman into decisive defeat last night, stopping the New York youngster in the twelfth round of what was to have been a 15-round bout.

To the winner went recognition as featherweight champion in the eyes of the New York state athletic commission which has ignored the title claims of Tommy Paul of Buffalo, winner of National Boxing association elimination tournament to find a successor to the 120-pound crown vacated by Chris Balliolino.

Chocolate now holds pieces of two championships. In addition to his disputed featherweight title, the "Kid" holds the synthetic junior lightweight crown.

But Chocolate, Cleveland second baseman brought from the White Sox, ended the season by leading all his teammates in batting.

CAPITAL GRIPPED FOOTBALL FEVER GRID CLASSIC NEAR

Columbus Forgets All Other Interests in Anticipation of Great Battle.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—The state capital today was fast becoming a football fever center hours before the Michigan-Ohio State gridiron contest the day the Wolverines and the Buckeyes were mingling on Columbus streets.

Everywhere the talk was of game. Groups on street corners and in restaurants, forgot politics and other world questions to rum the relative merits of favorites.

The consensus was that the game would win with the Buckeye given an outside chance to get through. In strictly partisan terms there was more optimism about them last year and with again. They were general at the game. Harry Kipke and 30 young men gathered in a downtown bar up quarters in a downtown bar. Coaches, trainers and fans swelled the party to about 100 members. Some four of the "B" Wolverines fans were due in before noon Saturday.

Both bands on hand. Bands of the two institutions each composed of some 100 members will tie for honors before game starts. The preconcert festivities are scheduled to get away at 2 p. m. The battle will broadcast over the National City with Tom Manning at the microphone and the Columbus system. Ted Husing announcing.

But through all the preparations today Coach Sam Williams and his charges went grilling at their business. Courtesy of a stadium was given Michigan afternoon and Kipke intended run his squad through a practice.

After the Wolverine words Williams led his men onto the field where they lapped off. The Buckeyes are in good for the contest with the exception of Captain Lew Finchman, who nursing an injured back. However, Finchman will be uniform and may see service for the contest if over.

TUROFF'S

POETRY OF HAM

Poets have ever sung of the tantalizing aroma and delectable flavor of ham.

Pope has made the fame of "Dunbar's Ham Pie" live through the centuries. Scott made Lady Margaret's marriage feast memorable because of the "princely ham."

And TUROFF'S turn the familiar "ham and eggs" into a gastronomic poem.

Tender, sweet ham and French from the South—yes—a perfectly appealing dish.

STATE TO DEMAND LIFE OF GUNMAN

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—Francis (Mac) Bush, returned to Ohio penitentiary to serve a life term for the murder of a Cleveland man, must go back to Cleveland to face a charge of first degree murder for which the state will demand his life.

Before he died, Quisenberry, a jeweler, identified Bush as the man who shot him. Bush, paroled ex-convict and bank robber, arrived at the penitentiary a few hours before the death of his alleged victim. He was to be taken back to Cleveland today.

C. Z. Zachman Is Named Kiwanis Club President

Speaker Urges Retention of Character Forming Institutions of City.

The election of C. Z. Zachman as president of the Kiwanis club was announced at a luncheon meeting of the club at Hotel Marion yesterday. He will succeed C. F. Brownson.

Other officers are C. C. Caldwell, vice president, and C. Carl May, treasurer. Members of board of directors are A. W. Kelle, J. C. Dickson, E. C. Walters, W. J. Barnhart, F. L. Alexander, T. J. McFarland and Ann Queen.

One of the most serious mistakes a community could make at the present time, it is believed by R. L. Dickson, associate general secretary of the Columbus Y. M. C. A., who was the speaker, would be the closing of its social character-forming institutions as a retrenching measure.

Such a move, the speaker declared, would do more toward developing the spirit of communism than anything a community could do. He predicted the largest social and communal life in the history of the nation at next winter's session, and declared the worst way to check the rapid growth of these things is by the social training taught by the Y. M. C. A., the churches and the schools.

The appearance of the Columbus man was the club's observance of Founder's day, the one hundred and eleventh anniversary of the birth of Sir George Williams, the founder of the Y. M. C. A.

The speaker reviewed the birth of the Y. M. C. A., telling how George Williams, a young man employed by a London store in 1844, became impressed by the lack of the proper social life for young men working in the city, and organized a club of 12 members calling themselves The Young Men's Christian association. The first organization of the Y. M. C. A. in the United States, the speaker said, took place in Boston and Cincinnati in 1850. In 1855 a "Y" was formed in Columbus.

He urged support of the local Y. M. C. A., paying Secretary Earl N. State the tribute of being one of the most efficient secretaries in the state. The work of the local "Y" he said was divided into four parts, 25 per cent of the work is with younger boys, 20 per cent with girls, 20 per cent with young men and seven per cent with older men.

The general Y. M. C. A. program he said is based on four objectives, physical, educational, religious and social. Each, he said, is in proper balance with the other.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Great Britain and France have agreed to hold a four-power emergency disarmament conference at Geneva, it was announced today at the conclusion of a conference between Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Herriot.

Italy already has accepted an invitation to participate, but thus far Germany has not agreed to holding the meeting at Geneva.

Germany's attitude indicates another deadlock, but her objections were described as "temporary."

The special conference would deal with Germany's demand for arms equality and would attempt to get her back into the world disarmament conference from which she retired when the other powers declined to concede her equality claim.

The Campaign Puzzle

Study Past State-by-State Votes in Making Your Forecast

HOOPER'S NOTE: This is the thirtieth of 30 articles showing how states voted in the 1896 presidential election and pointing out developments since).

Hooper's records as a Republican since 1900's standing. Since voting for Cleveland in 1900, the state has given its vote to a Democratic presidential candidate but once, in 1912, when Theodore Roosevelt's candidacy on the progressive ticket split the Republican vote.

The only important statewide election since Hoover's victory in 1920 was the senate race in 1928, when Daniel O. Hastings (R) defeated Thomas F. Bayard (D) with 59,859 votes to 39,861.

No statewide agency exists for gathering statistics on registrations, but political leaders say they expect a vote which will be slightly larger than the total of 1928.

State platforms of both parties in the current campaign adhere closely to the national party pronouncements.

Sub parties are expected by leaders in both parties to figure largely in the current campaign, but have been coordinated to discussions of the economic programs of the two parties in the early part of the campaign.

Delaware's electoral vote this year remains at 3, the same as before reapportionment.

Kentucky in the last half century has voted 11 times for Democratic candidates for the presidency and three times for Republicans. Its Republican votes were recorded in 1896, 1924 and 1928.

Presidential elections in the state since 1896 have been close.

KENTUCKY
1928: HOOPER - 558,000
SMITH - 284,000

except in 1912 and 1920. James M. Cox won the state in 1920 by 4,017 votes.

Prohibition was an outstanding issue in the 1928 campaign. In the current campaign more emphasis has been placed on economic issues. Farm relief programs of the two parties have been of special interest to many voters.

In the state elections of 1920, Marcell M. Logan (D) defeated John M. Robinson (R) by a vote of 128,748 to 109,190. In the same year the state elected nine Democrats and two Republicans to congressional seats.

Ruby Laffoon (D) defeated W. B. Harrison (R) in the gubernatorial elections the following year. The vote was 49,513 to 39,882. Economy and highways formed the issues of this campaign.

Kentucky's electoral vote has been reduced this year by reapportionment from 13 to 11. The state's nine congressmen are to be elected at large, and national issues dominate their campaigns.

Texas stepped out of the ranks of the Democratic "solid South" in 1928 for the first time since the civil war, to vote for a Republican candidate for president.

The campaign of that year was fought with unusual vigor in Texas. Alfred E. Smith's prohibition views were attacked by large groups within the Democratic party, and prominent party leaders in the state openly opposed him in the campaign.

The year which saw Texas giving its presidential vote to Herbert Hoover witnessed the election of Tom Connally (D.) to the United States senate by a vote of more than four to one over his Republican opponent.

In the state elections of 1920, Morris Sheppard (D.) was reelected to the senate with 264,500 votes, to 239,047 for his Republican opponent. In the same year Ross S. Sterling (D.) received 232,796 votes for governor against 212,412 for the Republican candidate.

Prohibition has been a live issue in the current campaign, although adoption of a modification of the prohibition by the Republican party has tended to remove some of the emphasis laid upon the issue in 1928. Party agricultural relief programs also are widely discussed.

FLASHES OF LIFE
By The Associated Press

ST. HELENE, England—A new idea for harvest festivals occurred to communicants of a church here. Gathering to give thanks for "kindly fruits of the earth," they decorated the church with bits of coal, glass and barley. St. Helene is a coal, glass and brewery town.

NEWBERG, Ore.—The well of Fred Sick's farm had been pumped dry by the Newberg fire department, but the house was in ruins and the barn still blazed. So the fire fighters used several cans of milk to save the barn and outbuildings.

INDIANAPOLIS—Jaine Smith smiled at several clerks in downtown stores who carried checks for him, but not at two smiling men who met him at a bank. They took Smith to detective headquarters where they said he admitted passing fraudulent checks.

FREMONT, N. C.—A robber who was uncommonly hard on prison visitors a store here. He climbed a drain pipe to the second floor and entered through a window. Finding a pile of shoes he liked, he stole them off. They didn't fit, so he climbed back and got another pair.

MEADVILLE, Pa.—Determined to solve the "tramp problem," Meadville started a municipal wood pile telling transients they'd be fed if they chopped and sawed for half an hour. So many responded that the town ran out of tools. The Salvation Army is campaigning to raise more saws and axes.

PHILADELPHIA—John Quinn, Southern automobile supplier, is home today with a tale of a new hazard in the life of a hotelier. In a night game at Nashville, he related, Hotel Empire Nick Campbell didn't mind the pay he had lost by State Farm. A screw protected him. But when somebody began throwing down watermelons from the press box atop the grand stand, Campbell hurried for cover.

Oil and White of Egg Work of Autumn Wind

PHINE HUDDLESTON
Autumn days make it a pleasurable experience the elements, but they also bite where beauty is, unless we foil Old Nature. There's a simple reversing treatment that made a part of your daily and if you adopt it, exposed skin needs a second beauty thought, causing the skin in your wanner, pour a little pure into one hand, then rub together, distributing only over both palms and es of the fingers.
ready in a small dish the white of one strictly fresh egg, and after the oil has been applied, dip the tips of the fingers of one hand into the egg white and smooth it over the oiled skin, blending the egg white and oil.

When both hands have been coated in this manner, smooth the hands over your cleansed face, neck, shoulders and the backs of the hands.
You probably will need more than one mixing of oil and white of egg on the hands, but don't attempt to mix them in any other way than the one described.
When all exposed skin has been covered with the mixture, continue smoothing the fingers lightly over the skin until all trace of it disappears. When dry, the skin will appear smooth and fine and its texture will be soft and pleasing to touch.

There should be no shine from the oil, and there will be none of the greasy on the skin that usually results when white of egg is used alone and allowed to dry on.
This treatment nourishes and re-fines the skin. It is splendid to relieve light chapping, and deeply wonderful in preventing roughness from the wind.

ELWOOD, Ind.—The death of Prince, 22-year-old pony, is being mourned by its owner, Robert De-Hority, farmer. DeHority recalls boyhood days when the animal was the favorite playmate of himself and other boys and girls.

On the Ohio Ballot

A Series of Sketches To Acquaint Voters with This Year's State Candidates.

FOR AUDITOR OF STATE

JOSEPH T. TRACY, Republican candidate to succeed himself as state auditor, noted like a ladder the rungs of progress from country school teacher to auditor of state. He attended rural and normal schools, became a country schoolmaster himself, then county school examiner, auditor of schools county and finally—auditor of state. He was one of the original supervisors when the bureau of inspection and supervision of public office was formed. He is proud of the record that 500,000 warrants or an average of more than 2,000 daily were written in his office in 1935.

DANIEL E. BUTLER, 61, of Toledo, is for the fourth time a candidate for auditor of state. That he is said at Democratic headquarters in Columbus, probably in a record, and it was added, attests to the esteem in which Butler is held within the party. An accountant he has had experience as a bookkeeper for industrial concerns and as a traffic manager. From 1915 to 1921 he was superintendent of the bureau of rates for the state public utilities commission. It was in the years 1920, 1924 and 1928 that Butler was a candidate for the office he seeks again this year. Another record, his friends smilingly point out, is his fine family—he has 10 children.

Mrs. Sabina seeks damages for alleged permanent injuries received when the automobile in which she was riding collided with a car driven by Harold Klein, one of the defendants, on the Marion-Buchtus highway Nov. 23, 1936.
